THE RALEIGH NEWS

VOL. XII—NO. 33. RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 9, 1877. $5.00 PER ANNUM.

By Telegraph.

SUNDAY NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Cox, Sayler and Gen. Forney, of Alabama, are in consultation to-night at the Biggs House.

Caldwell's chances for Clerk seem to be on the bulge.

NOON DISPATCHES.

THE INDIAN WAR.

Gen. Miles Surprises Joseph's Camp and Wins a Victory.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—General Miles telegraphs from Bear Paw October 3rd, that he surprised the Nes Perces camp, capturing about six hundred horses, mules and ponies, the engagement was severe. The Indians lost seventeen killed, including Looking Glass and Joseph's brother, and three other chiefs, and forty wounded. Joseph gave me his solemn pledge yesterday that he would surrender, but did not, and they are evidently waiting for aid from other Indians. They say that the Sioux are coming to their aid. They are closely invested in some deep ravines and kept under fire. To take them by assault would cost many lives. I may wear them out and eventually compel them to give up. They fight with more desperation than any Indians I ever met. Our killed are Capt. Owen Hale seventh cavalry, 2nd Lt. Biddle seventh cavalry, and 21 non-commissioned officers and privates; wounded Captains Maylon and Godfrey, First Lieut. and Adjutant Baird and Lieut. Romeyer, 38 non-commissioned officers and privates, and two Indian scouts.

FRANCE.

Prosecution of Gambetta.

PARIS, October 8.—The Francaise announces that the government has ordered the prosecution of M. Gambetta for his manifesto. It says the audacious reproduction in his manifesto of the praise, "il faulse sonnietre ou se demettre," is not only a repitition of the offense against the Marshal, but as M. Gambetta has already been condemned therefor by the Tribunal of the Seine, it constitutes an outrage against the magistracy, whose decisions are publicly ignored.

Senator Louis Oliver Bourban is dead, aged 66.

LONDON, October 8.—The Times Paris special confirms the Francaise's announcement that Mr. Gambetta is to be prosecuted again. Perfect tranquillity, however, prevails in Paris. The Republicans are too confident of success at the elections to be enticed into any demonstration.

EASTERN AFFAIRS.

LONDON, October 8.—Two feet of snow has already fallen in Schipka Pass.

A Times despatch from Gorney Studen says that newspaper correspondents will hereafter only be admitted to the lines of active operations on days of engagements. At other times they must remain at corps' headquarters, because it is believed that information sent out by correspondents has several times compromised the success of Russian plans.

A letter to the Times', from Odessa, states that within ten days 2,500 sick from Bulgaria have reached the Odessa hospitals. The sick are chiefly suffering from fever.

The Department of Justice Deficiency.

WASHINGTON, October 8.—Devens will ask Congress at the extra session to appropriate $255,000 to cover the deficiency in the appropriations for the Department of Justice during the past fiscal year.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

Gone Home to Vote--The Late Fire the work of an Incendiary--The Vacant Judgeship--Arrivals--What Judge Leonard says about Pinchback and Eustis.

The Supreme Bench, all except Hunt called on the Presiden this morning and opened a regular term court.

The committee to investigate the Fire Interior Department report unanimously that it was the work of incendiary.

The President is loosely quoted as saying he will fill the vacant seat by a person from the South aged not over sixty years.

Harlan, of Kentucky, and Hunt, of Louisiana, are favorites among those who augur from His Excellencies expressions.

Blackburn, of Kentucky, has arrived.

Morrison, of Illinois, is reported as opposed to the Texas Pacific, which is equivalent to retiring from the contest for Speaker.

The employees of the House, many of whom are gentlemen of influence, favor generally the present incumbents.

Senator Dennis, of Maryland will be in his seat on the fifteenth.

Justice Hunt was in town and it is hinted failed to accompany his brethren in their usual pilgrimage to the White House in the interest of Mr. Conkling. The Sore has not yet come to the cuticle.

Judge Leonard, Republican member of Congress from the fifth Louisiana District former represented by General Morey, who was ousted from his seat by Col. Spencer, who vacated it to become Chief Justice under the Nicholls Government, is quoted as saying, "he did not see how the Senate could longer refuse to admit Mr. Eustis. From a party standpoint the Republicans were bound to admit Pinchback as he was part and parcel of the Kellogg Government, but having declined to do this thing declared in effect that the seat was vacant from the time of Kellogg's resignation to assume the Governorship of the State, such being the case the undoubted Legisture organized under the Wheeler compromise clearly had the right to fill the vacancy. Judge Leonard says he remembers having heard Mr. Morton declare that the seat belonged either to Pinchback or Eustis, and that he (Morton) could not see where the forms of law had not been complied with in the election of Mr. Eustis, and that the Republicans will stultify themselves if they kept the State unrepresented."

EASTERN AFFAIRS.

Extremely Bad Weather--Servia Gives Assurances of Pacific Intentions.

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 8.—Extremely bad weather prevails. Snow and rain are continually falling. By the continuance of unfavorable weather it is thought probable that it will suspend operations in Bulgaria and the Balkans.

LONDON, October 8.—A Reuter dispatch from Constantinople says: The Servian diplomatic agent has formally renewed to the Porte assurances of the pacific intentions of Servia. A dispatch received to-day from Mukhtar Pasha increases his former estimates of the Russian losses during the recent fight to 15,000, and places the loss of the Turks at 2,500.

More Devilry by Obdurate Strikers.

PITTSTON, PA., Oct. 8.—This morning the employees of the Pennsylvania Coal Company resumed work, but the car runners on the heavy gravity track were prevented from shipping coal over the Hawley & Erie Road to New York by the result of an act of incendiarism on the Springbrook trestlework. They ask protection from the striking agitators. The men in the employ of the company are exasperated at this second attempt of the strikers at this same point and by the same means to deprive them of work.

The Episcopal Convention.

BOSTON, October 8.—The Episcopal Convention adopted the fifteen minutes rule for debates.

Dr. Steele, of Florida, offered a resolution that a subscription paper be opened for the relief of the sufferers from yellow fever in Fernandina. The resolution was adopted.

The Committee on Canons reported that it was not expedient to change the term of probation from three years to six months.

The Committee on Canons reported against shortening the morning and evening prayers, and a minority report was made in favor of the charge.

Rings, Rogues and Rascals Catching it in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, October 8.—Congressman Smalls had a preliminary examination. Woodruff testified that he paid Smalls $5,000 as a bribe to vote for a measure before the Legislature adjourned. Smalls was held to bail.

Maxwell, Senator from Marlboro county, in default of bail, was imprisoned on a similar charge.

The charges of bribery are connected with the printing swindles, the Republican Company of which Woodruff was head centre. His testimony is based upon a memorandum book he kept in short hand.

Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, October 8.—For the South Atlantic States [illegible] be veering to colder northwest winds; rain areas, followed by clearing weather and rising barometer.

Another Bank in Liquidation.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 8.—The Pioneer Land and Loan Bank has gone into liquidation. Liabilities $250,000.

An Impostor.

To the Editor of the News:

Your paper has given warning to the credulity of the farmers of this country time and again against tramps, stragglers and deceivers generally; but as we are slow to our own protection by your warnings against all such, we need line upon line, &c. On the morning of the 6th inst., an old man appeared at my gate, apparently in great pain, as he purported, suffering with cramp colic, we administered relief, as we thought. He said his name was Samuel Sugg, and on his way to Chapel Hill, where he has relatives; that on last Tuesday his house was burned, and his wife and child together with it, near Mr. Robbins' in Franklin county, and exhibited scars, and a certificate signed by A. Jones, that his wife and child were buried on the 7th inst., at the church at Pacific. I learned from many responsible parties that this same Sugg was there on the 5th drunk and down, and that he spends all the money he can beg for whiskey. He can put on sickness to perfection and thereby deceive. He is false to every pretension. He passes in some neighborhoods as a doctor, in others as a sick man, and others as a beggar outright, all of which is a cheat and a deception upon the charity of the people. He appears at some houses as a pious christian, and puts on God for the purpose of more effectually accomplishing his purpose as he did at my house.

From my house he went to Wake Forest and there deceived the good people of that place, who contributed freely, as they thought, to a worthy object of charity. His age is about 54, tall and slender, wears whiskers, thin visage, and pretends to be perfectly deaf. This latter pretension was proven false before he left Wake Forest.

The Wilson Plain Dealer, Franklin Courier, Oxford Torchlight, Hillsboro Recorder and Raleigh News will please hand him around, in order that the people in those counties in which he mostly circulates may have the benefit of the protection which this will give.

And now, Messrs. Editors, please allow me again to warn all country people, who are more easily duped, to beware of every man going on foot, and drive them from their presence. Ninety-nine out of every hundred of such are impostors, especially so is Samuel Sugg.

SILAS M. STONE.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, Oct. 8, 1877.

Nemesis.

[Philadelphia Times.]

Ex-Treasurer Cardoza, of South Carolina, is in jail at last, his colored surety having surrendered him to prison. Of the once omnipotent band of South Carolina jobbers, ex-Governor Moses has been in prison and now has turned State's evidence; ex-Governor Sawyer is a convict; Senator Patterson is hiding from criminal indictments found by his own political party; ex-Auditor Nagle is a fugitive; ex-Treasurer Parker is seeking to soften retribution by confession against himself and his associates; ex-Governor Chamberlain is waiting for the chain to draw a little more tightly about him, and of all those who ruled until Chamberlain was overthrown, not one is safe from the whip of justice. Truly the mills of the gods do grind exceeding small!

ARCHBISHOP GIBBONS.

(Richmond Whig.)

From the moment of the death of Archbishop Bayley, Bishop James Gibbons, late of the see of Richmond, Va., became archbishop of Baltimore, having been appointed "coadjutor, with the right of succession." When he accepted the coadjutorship he ceased to be bishop of Richmond, and that diocese is in the hands of Rev. F. Janssens, administrator. After ceasing to be bishop of Richmond Dr. Gibbons was made administrator of his late diocese until the Rev. Mr. Janssens returned from Europe. When Archbishop Gibbons is invested with the pallium, to be received from Rome, he will be impowered to exercise all the functions belonging to the metropolitan see and the primacy of America. Bishop Gibbons was transferred from North Carolina, where he was vicar apostolic, to succeed the late Bishop McGill, as the fourth bishop of Richmond, October 20th, 1872. He was then 38 years of age, and the youngest ecclesiastic in the United States wearing the mitre. He is now, at the age of 43 years, the youngest archbishop. He was born in Baltimore, July 23d, 1834, and was baptized in the Cathedral, in that city. He was partly educated in Ireland, and graduated (1857) at St. Charles College, Md., completing his theological course at St. Mary's Seminary, in this city, in 1861. He was ordained at St. Mary's chapel the same year by the late Archbishop of Kenrick. He was assistant to the late Father Dolan at St. Patrick's, Baltimore, and subsequently pastor of St. Bridget's, Canton. Archbishop Spalding fully appreciated his administrative ability and his untiring zeal, and made him his secretary in 1865. At the second plenary council of Baltimore he was named to the then newly-established vicariate apostolic of North Carolina, and two years afterwards was consecrated as such, (August 16, 1868), by Archbishop Spalding at the cathedral, where, as an infant, he had been christened. On the 30th of July, 1872, he was appointed bishop of Richmond, and in October following was duly installed. It was through the great desire of Dr. Bayley that Bishop Gibbons was appointed his coadjutor, with the right of succession.

North Carolina State Fair--What "Push" has Done.

(From the October Number of the Southern Planter and Farmer, Richmond, Va.)

Quite early in the Spring Col. Holt, President of the North Carolina (State) Agricultural Society, began to move in connection with the Fair to be held this Fall. His energy is simply boundless, and when he undertakes anything it is to win; and he always wins. He induced several public spirited gentlemen to act with him in purchasing the Fair grounds at Raleigh and putting up the necessary buildings. The work was done in the name of the Society, but these few gentlemen became individually bound for the cost. The debt they thus assumed in 1869 will be wholly liquidated this year, and the Society become the possessor of a property of [illegible] to the State at large. So we see what can be done, even in hard times, through the will of a few determined men. As we said, the work this year was started early, and it has known no flagging since. They have with one accord worked like beavers, and they will witness a result that will make glad the heart of every man in that good old State. We copy in the following from the poster, or hand-bill, sent out through the State by the Society. It speaks for itself:

THE STATE FAIR FOR 1877.

T. M. HOLT, Pres. C. B. DENSON, Sec.

* * * * * * *

We would not be speaking what is in our heart if we did not say that we wished old Virginia could enjoy even one-half of the "push" that has brought about this happy result in North Carolina. We put off the work until a month or two before the Fair opens, and then people have not time sufficient to prepare for it what they would like to exhibit.

The State Agricultural Society, like any other business, should be before the public the year through. Only one rousing effort, like that in North Carolina, would not only expunge the debt owed by the Society, but leave something over for premiums such as should be offered. Although we have only a month yet in which to try ourselves, our people must not hold back, but give the Fair their very best service. Our manufacturers and tradespeople must come to the rescue with special premiums of all kinds, and we hope they will. Of course these things could have been worked better had a little more time been given them, but even now they can do something, and that something should not be left undone. If the spectacle in North Carolina this year will have the effect to stir us up next year, we will be thankful. What others can do, we ought certainly to try to do.

If we had Maj Hotchkiss to prepare a collection of our resources, such as Prof. Kerr has gotten together at Raleigh of those in North Carolina, we would see something that would surprise us, and make us at the same time ashamed that any man born in Virginia should have so far gone astray as to countenance a movement the effect of which is not only to destroy the value of these resources, but put on our name and fame the blot of dishonest dealing.

We observe with pleasure that our State Agricultural Society has its handbills out, too.

A Compliment Well Bestowed.

[Norfolk Landmark.]

The Southern members of the Board of Trustees of the Peabody Fund naturally elect a Southern man to fill any vacancy among their number, but this rule has found a felicitous exceptioa, in the selection of President Hayes to fill the place once adorned by the illustrious Maury. According to public expectation some distinguished representative of the South, Johnston, Hampton, Gordon, or some such man was to succeed the dead philosopher; but the Southern members of the Board took a different view of the matter. In this they acted with excellent taste and patriotic generosity. They have said, on behalf of their section, by this act that they appreciate the wise and constitutional methods of Mr. Hayes, and that they honor him for his manly adhesion to the Constitution in the face of an opposition which, at one time, threatened to assume the most formidable dimensions. We are glad that this compliment has been paid the President, and are satisfied that it will be cordially approved by the people of the South.

The Episcopal Church.

[New York Sun.]

The General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States assembled in Boston will legislate on matters touching the interests of the whole Church. Of all the Protestant denominations in the United States, the Episcopal is the one which by reason of its orderly and beautiful ritual, appeals at once to the æsthetic and the religious sense of the community. Its membership is chiefly in the large cities and towns, and, Connecticut alone excepted, the farming communities are little under its influence. But, though not of an aggressive church, in the sense that the Methodists and Baptists are aggressive, the Episcopalians have steadily advanced of recent years, making frequent inroads on the ancient ecclesiastical preserves of Puritanism. It is, indeed, significant that this General Convention is to be held in a church at Boston which is the finest edifice for worship in that city, and one of the grandest in the whole country.

One of the exciting questions which will come before this body, which is the highest tribunal of the Episcopal Church, will concern the change of name of the communion. Some of the High Church Episcopalians object strenuously to calling it the Protestant Episcopal Church. They contend that that does not properly describe it; that it is a branch of the Church Catholic, its ministry being in undeniable succession from the apostles. A few possibly might be content with the Anglican Church, as indicating the country where it got its purification, but they do not wish to have a name which will place them on an equality with the other Protestant bodies, for they claim to be true Catholics.

This present Convention cannot decide this question, since under the rules of its organization it is restricted to advising the General Convention next to assemble. This may not seem a very great matter to outsiders, but to those within the Episcopal Church it has a grave significance, for it involves a fundamental question, touching upon the difference between what are called the High and Low parties among Episcopalians. Of late years it seems to be an undoubted fact that the High Church party has the best of it.

To the Editor of the News:

DEAR SIR—I believe the NEWS is sent and kept on file at the President's mansion. Mr. Hayes' fight with Mr. Cornell is not yet over. Whilst I have no fear as to the result, yet Mr. Hayes can be but a man, and all of us in our hours of trouble and responsibility can be soothed by a little precedent and good authority for our actions. I might add here, and hope what I have to say will be equally acceptable to yourself in your "Bourbon fight": Every laudable triumph for the President is a triumph for the NEWS, in that you have long ago wiseley led our people to commend him for his patriotic course. But here is the point. In 1802 Mr. Jefferson, in a letter to Levi Lincoln upon the subject of public officials, uses this language: "To these means of obtaining a just share in the transaction of the public business shall be added one other, to-wit, removal of those who, in exercising their offices, are doing industrious opposition to the principles of the present government, legislation and execution. Every officer of the government may vote at elections according to his conscience; but we should betray the cause committed to our care were we to permit the influence of official patronage to be used to overthrow that cause."

The President may have other authority for his course, but I am sure he has none better than this, coming from the great founder of Democratic principles.

Wm. R. Cooper, a stock operator in San Francisco, disappeared a few days ago, and it is alleged that he forged the name of J. L. Treadwell to checks on the bank of Sather & Co., and the National Gold Bank and Trust Company to amounts aggregating over $50,000. It is now believed to be established that Cooper is the individual who, in 1867, committed heavy forgeries on the government while employed in the Navy Department. He was then arrested on his wedding day, and finally consigned to Moyamensing prison, Philadelphia, for five years. He is supposed to have gone to New Orleans since his flight from San Francisco.

The Storm at Edenton.

[Cor. Norfolk Landmark.]

EDENTON, N. C., Oct. 3, 1877.

On the 27th of September a storm commenced here, and has lasted up to the present date, doing considerable damage. It carried away every water-mill in Chowan, Perquimans and Gates counties, also every public bridge, so that the people are unable to get to town. It did great damage to all the fisheries on the Albemarle sound, especially to Greenfield and Drummond's Point. It tore up the wharves and warehouses so they will hardly be able to fish the coming spring. In the lower part of Washington county three men, while trying to return home, were drowned. The tide has been twelve feet above its usual height. It has been quite disastrous to the crops. The farmers say they will not make a half-crop. The loss is estimated at from $20,000 to $25,000.

If you ask a boy to break up a piece of lump coal so as to keep himself from freezing, he regards his lot as one of exceptional hardship; but let him find at old torpedo lying around loose, he will hammer at it with a stone until the perspiration stands in great drops upon his forehead, or an explosion relieves him from his self-appointed task.

STATE NEWS.

Danville Reporter: W. P. Covington has six Canadian Berkshire pigs that at one month old averaged in weight each 14 pounds.

Spirit of the South: There was a shooting scrape in the Rocketts last Sunday evening; one white man shot at another some four or five times—none of the shots, however, taking effect.

Roanoke News: W. J. Birdsong section master on S. & R. R. R. left his hands on Thursday to go to the spring. He did not return for some hours when one of the men went to look for him and found him dead.

The Magistrates of Stokes county last week determined to establish an inferior court for their county, and elected J. F. Hill to preside, and J. Y. Allen and J. L. Smith associates; W. W. King Solicitor and devolved the duties of Clerk on the Clerk of the Superior Court.

Oxford Free Lance: We regret to learn that our community will soon lose one of its most interesting families—it is the intention of Mr. T. B. Kingsbury, editor of the Wilmington Star, to remove his family to that city about the last of October, and while wishing them the greatest pleasure in their new home, we can but regret the necessity that takes them from our midst.

Mr. Palemon John, of the North Carolinian, who had all his types and fixtures burned some time since, has resumed the issue of his paper on a half sheet, but says he expects to issue in full size this week in his new office, erected since the fire. The North Carolinian used to be an awful hot radical journal, but we are glad to see it is becoming democratic in sentiment, that is it supports the democratic doctrine of non-interference in State governments and civil service reform.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

Robert Small (colored,) ex-Congressman from South Carolina, has been arrested.

The Atlanta Constitution reports that all the Congressmen from Georgia will vote for Randall for Speaker.

At Houston, Texas, a white man was fined $1 and costs for saying to a passing mulatto girl that he would like to kiss her.

Considerable damage was done about Fredericksburg by the freshet of last Thursday. The Rappahannock was was swollen far out of its usual banks.

Hon. M. J. Crawford, of Georgia, was lately killed by being thrown from his buggy. His brother, last year, died from the poisonous effect of the sting of a bee.

The Grand Jury of Baltimore county, Md., found a "true bill" on the presentment against Judge Yellott for drunkenness, &c. There are five counts in the indictment.

John W. Turnbull, a young man of remarkable personal beauty and fine talents, killed himself Thursday in a house of illfame in Baltimore, by cutting his throat with a razor. Whisky was the matter with him.

In Kentucky Friday, J. B. Kinkwell murdered M. D. Dovell over a game of cards.—Sam Owens killed his brother-in-law, Cain Montgomery, and Logan Montgomery attempted to kill the murderer of his brother, but failed.

Rev. Stuart Robinson, the great Southern Presbyterian divine, has written a strong letter in favor of Gen. John M. Harlan, republican, of Kentucky, who is being pressed so strongly for the vacant seat upon the Supreme Bench.

At a meeting of colored citizens in Atlanta, Georgia, a few days ago, Moses Bently and George McKinny, two leading democrats among the colored people, presided over the proceedings, and both made speeches supporting the President's policy.

The Sun says: "Jeff Davis has nearly finished his memoirs, in which General Joe Johnston of Virginia will be handled without gloves." This may be true. Perhaps, however, Mr. Davis will wish before he gets through that he had not only worn gloves, but he may grieve because he didn't put on mittens.

Congressman Smalls was carried to Columbia, S. C., Oct. 6, under arrest by order of the Investigating Committee, for accepting bribes as a member of the South Carolina Senate. He was released until Monday in $5,000 bail.

Ex-Treasurer Cardoza is still in jail. No attempt at habeas corpus has been made.

The celebrated estate "Whitemarsh," so well and so long known throughout Old Virginia, was recently sold and purchased by Philip Tabb, Esq., a son of its former owner, John Tabb, for the sum of $35,000. This estate contains 1,700 acres, and was purchased by George Hughes, Esq., of New York, five years ago, for $60,000.—Gloucester letter to the Richmond State.

Wade Hampton, Jr., son of the Governor, and once aid on the staff of General J. E. Johnston, has received, without asking, a nomination, to the Mississippi Legislature from the Democrats of Washington county, wherein he is a planter. His brother Preston, it may be remembered, was killed on the battlefield within sight of their father.

A writer on the Courier-Journal is sympathetically sensitive. He has heard that somebody accuses Tweed of being a liar, and he says: "It is painful to see a gentleman of Mr. Tweed's venerable age charged even with prevarication, but when we see him thus openly accused of downright lying, it is calculated to make us shed tears. Hence these."

A Willis (Texas) dispatch of the 21st ult., says: "On Saturday, the 15th instant, a convict was placed in the stocks on board the convict car at this place by Sergeant Swenson. His cries for mercy, "Take me down; I am dying" were not heeded. He was taken from the stocks and laid on the floor of the car dead. The coroner's verdict is that the deceased came to his death by strangulation and exhaustion. Whereupon Swenson was arraigned before a justice of the peace, and the evidence adduced seemed to warrant the justice in placing Swenson under $500 bond."

THE PRESIDENT AND THE FEDERAL ARMY.

It is said that the Secretary of War will recommend to Congress that the President be authorized, in his discretion, to increase the army to 40,000 men, its present number being 25,000 men, all told. We trust that Congress will not receive this recommendation with favor. We are very sure that the delegation from this State will not so receive it. We find our views on the subject clearly and forcibly expressed in the following wise and well-timed remarks from the N. Y. Journal of Commerce:

One of the bulwarks of our liberties is the supreme power of Congress over the army. Congress alone can fix the numbers of, and appropriate the money, for the national war establishment. This, with many other wise provisions of our political system, was copied from England. The old Bill of Rights in that country forbade the maintenance of a standing army in time of peace without consent of Parliament, and that body has for nearly two hundred years declared what should be the strength of the army and how much it should cost.

The Congressional control of the army has worked admirably, as a principle, until, at the last session, the House refused to appropriate funds for the War Department unless the troops which then menaced the South and the peace of the country were withdrawn. As neither the Senate nor the Executive would accept this condition, the money was not forthcoming. Since then the retirement of the regulars from the South and their gallant conduct in the late labor riots has put the House in a more confiding and amiable frame of mind; and at the extra session this month the army will be generously treated, we doubt not. But any attempt to increase it much will meet with resistance.

The President cannot augment the army without running up its expenses. Will Congress cede these powers to the Executive? The House of Commons would regard such a proposition from the Crown with the greatest suspicion and indignantly reject it. Congress, if it respects itself, will spurn such a suggestion as insulting. It will insist on fixing the number and the cost of the Federal army from year to year. If Congress authorizes the President to raise the army to 40,000 men, he will be continually and sorely tempted to do it. The pressure upon him from army officers, contractors and fomenters of border quarrels would be irresistible unless he were as firm as granite. We would spare the President this conflict and annoyance, and probably save the nation from an added financial burden and the aggravated dangers of war with Mexico, by keeping the management of the army in its present hands.

It is not likely Congress will increase the army by a single man; and the War Secretary may think himself lucky if the roster and the appropriations are not cut down together. One enlargement of an army leads to another. In Great Britain the standing force has more than doubled, with the consent of Parliament, since 1825, though we see no reason for this in the foreign or domestic relations of that country. If Congress adds 5,000 or 10,000 men to our army now, there will be a request from the War Department for as many more in two years.

A standing army, even the smallest, has in it the seeds of peril to a free government. A militia, composed of volunteers, in each State, well disciplined, is, on the contrary, the best of guarantees that our liberties will not be attacked or subverted; and, as the civil war and the recent riots triumphantly prove, a citizen soldiery is equal to any emergency in State or national affairs.

THE Farmer and Mechanic, the organ of the Agricultural Department, will start out on its career in a very short time. It was found necessary to establish such a journal; and if it be generously supported by the public will prove very useful to the cause of agriculture. Its editor, Capt. R. A. Shotwell, formerly associate editor of the Southern Home, is one fully competent to the task which he has undertaken. We welcome him to the important position on the press of the city which he is to occupy.

WHO will be Speaker of the next House? is the most interesting question just now, pending the assembling of Congress. We of course, would prefer a North Carolinian; but we see no hope of that now. The people of this State care little who is elected Speaker, so he is a thorough going Democrat, a friend to the South, and firm enough in his integrity to resist the blandishments of schemers.

JUDGE MCKOY is holding the Superior Court of Wake. He makes a most favorable impression. He is the thorough gentleman as well as excellent Judge. Such men honor the bench.

A POOR girl, in Philadelphia, stole a dress. The Philadelphia Press noticed the act, and called the girl a "thief," in big letters. John S. Morton robbed his company of a million dollars or more, and the Press speaks of it as Morton's "mistake." It is fast coming to this—if a man steals one dollar, he is written down a "thief;" if he steals ten thousand dollars, that is a "defalcation"; if one hundred thousand, it is an "irregularity"; if a million, a "mistake." It is not to be wondered at that crime is on the increase, when we see society—aye, and the Courts—condoning offences in proportion to their enormity; and we may look in vain for reform until the author of a big steal is called a thief just as the author of a little steal, and when the one shall reach the Penitentiary with as little delay as the other.

THE Department of Justice needs $255,000 to supply the existing deficiency. Attorney General Devens, it is said, will ask that much of the extra session of Congress. What a pity the Department of Justice cannot recall about $250,000 of the $400,000 expended by it on Grant's election, in this State, in 1872!

THE United States troops gained a victory over Joseph some days ago; and many officers and soldiers were killed and wounded, but Howard was not among the number.

Beautify Your Homes.

[Rural Messenger.]

It appears to be a natural trait of the human character for man and woman kind to adorn as best they can the homes they dwell in. A taste for the beautiful is implanted in the human heart, and nothing but the most sordid avarice can ever effectually eradicate it. Indeed, we question whether it ever is entirely obliterated even in the most penurious breast. We never saw a man so wholly lost to a sense of the beautiful, that he did not look with some interest on the plant or vine his child had planted and trained by his cottage door, or regard with a degree of reverence the flower some departed friend, perhaps the wife of his bosom, had tended.

Why, then, do we see so little effort made, comparatively, to embellish the homes and doorways, and to make the home surroundings neat and beautiful? Instead of flowers and climbing plants, we see weeds and rank grass; instead of the well-shaven lawn and gravel walks, too often briers and mud-puddles meet the eye. Why not let the beautiful things of earth entwine their loving forms about the homes where we pass our care-worn and toil-burdened lives away? Let our wives and daughters, if they wish it, cultivate flowers, vines, and shrubbery; let them have their gravel walks and grass plats, hanging baskets and conservatories, and plant trees, too, by the roof-tree of home; not only passively allow them, but encourage and assist them also. Their lives—and yours—will be made better and happier through the innocent recreation.

There is use in beauty. It makes home attractive, its exterior more respectable, our lives happier, our dispositions sweeter, and our social and domestic intercourse more refined By all means plant some little thing of grace to temper the rugged surroundings of the front yard. Its silent, though eloquent language, will speak to the visitor or the passer-by a word of culture, for very one, the humblest shrub will do some refinement. A curved path winding between trees to the house, a mound of stones and shells with the ivy trailing over them, the flowering shrub or the turf of fern—all such things are attractive and form a pleasing object for the eye of even the most indifferent beholder.

The plat of ground in front of the house should, of course, be rendered as attractive as the means and ingenuity of the members of the family can make it. It should have the greenest possible turn, the most symmetrical and ornamental shrubbery, the neatest walks and the tidiest clumps of evergreens.

Do not say these things cost much to no useful purpose. It is a mistake. The actual money cost need not be large, and the work is performed at odd intervals as a species of recreation; therefore, instead of being expensive, it becomes really a benefit, conducing to the health and pleasure of those who undertake it. Seek to beautify the homes where you dwell.

Murder will Out.

(Washington Critic.)

A statement made by Gen. Thomas L. Clingman, of North Carolina, in his recently published work, giving his reminiscences of men and things in Washington, has brought several gentlemen to their feet with explanations and denials. Among these are Jeremiah Black, of Pennsylvania, and Jacob Thompson; the former Mr. Buchanan's Attorney General, and the latter his Secretary of the Interior. Gen. Clingman's statement is to the effect that James Buchanan consented that his Secretary of the Interior, Jacob Thompson, should go South to excite an insurrection against the Government of the United States. This is a grave charge, involving the honor of Buchanan and his whole Cabinet. Black and Thompson both deny the statement; but Clingman is a man of as much character as either of them, and he is corroborated by two suspicious circumstances. The first of these is the fact that Mr. Black gave Mr. Buchanan his official written opinion, that there was no power conferred by the Constitution to resist secession and to prevent the destruction of the Government. The second suspicious circumstance is furnished by the fact that Jacob Thompson actually left his place here in the Interior Department and went to Raleigh, in December, 1860, to engage actively in lobbying with the Legislature in behalf of secession. If we mistake not, it was while Thompson was on this mission that the Indian bonds, amounting to $750,000, were stolen from a safe in his Department, by his confidential clerk, Goddard Bailey.

The Legislature of North Carolina was more loyal to the Constitution than Mr. Buchanan's Secretary of the Interior and Minister Extraordinary, so that the latter failed in his mission and came back to Washington to draw pay from the Government he was plotting to overthrow, in violation of his oath of office.

We will say further that Clingman's character for veracity has never been impeached; and that he could have no motive to misrepresent his friends.

MISCELLANEOUS.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA, CHAPEL HILL, Sept. 25, 1877.

To the Trustees, Alumni and friends of the University of North Carolina:

The increasing prosperity of the University has created a need for a medium through which its objects should be made known. To this end the two Literary Societies of the University have determined to re-establish the "University Magazine," once an ornament to the University and State.

It is proposed in publishing facts connected with the University to make the Magazine the organ through which the historical incidents of the State may be made known and perpetuated. At present there is in the State no periodical of this kind and the need for one is patent to all.

The contributors of the Magazine will be some of the most prominent and talented gentlemen and ladies of the State. The Societies have elected three editors each, and as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained the Magazine will be issued.

The price of the Magazine will be $2.50, IN ADVANCE, per year.

Trustees, Alumni and friends, the students of your University call upon you to contribute this small amount to the support of an enterprise, the ends of which are so beneficial.

Those who desire to aid us will please inform us immediately by letter or postal.

Address,
EDITORS UNIVERSITY MAGAZINE,
Chapel Hill, Orange Co., N. C.

State papers friendly to the enterprise will please copy.

DR TUTTS PILLS

Meet the wants of those who need a safe and reliable medicine. The immense demand which has so rapidly followed their introduction is evidence that they do supply this want, and proves them to be ever furnished the American people. The highest medical authorities concede their superiority over all others, because they possess alterative, tonic, and healing properties contained in no other medicine. Being strongly Anti-Bilious, they expel all humors, correct a vitiated state of the system, and, being purely vegetable, they do not, like other pills, leave the stomach and bowels in a worse condition than they found them, but, on the contrary, impart a healthy tone and vigor before unknown.

OUR WORDS INDORSED

Dr. C. L. MITCHELL, Ft. Meade, Fla., says: "I know the superiority of your pills, and want to see them used instead of the worthless compounds sold in this country."

Rev. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky., says: "Tutt's pills are worth their weight in gold."

Had Sick Headache & Piles 30 Years.

"I am well. Gaining strength and flesh every day." R. S. Austin, Springfield, Mass.

He Defies Chills and Fever.

Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE

Gray hair is changed to a glossy black by a single application of this dye. It is easily applied, acts like magic, and is as harmless as spring water. Never disappoints. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

DAILY NEWS.

TUESDAY.....OCTOBER 9, 1877.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the best weekly paper published in North Carolina. It is only ONE DOLLAR per year, postage paid, contains 32 columns of plain printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

A Literary Oddity.

The brewers should to Malta go,
The boobies all to Scilly;
The Quakers to the Friendly Isles,
The farriers to Chili.

The little snarling, carrolling babes
That break our nightly rest,
Should be packed off to Babylon,
To Lapland, or to Brest.

From Spithead cooks go o'er to Greece;
And while the miser waits
His passage to the Guinea coast,
Spendthrifts are in the Straits.

Spinsters should to Needles go;
Wine-bibbers to Burgundy;
Gourmands should lunch at the Sandwich Isles;
Wags at the bay of Fundy.

Batchelors to the United States,
Maids to the Isle of Man;
Israelites to Jerusalem go,
And shoe-blacks to Japan.

Thus emigrate, and misplaced men
Will here no longer vex us,
And all who are not provided for
Had better go to Texas.

NEWS NOTES.

The funeral of the late Major General George A. Custer takes place at West Point next Wednesday.

A blighted famale in San Francisco, 65 years old, has brought a suit for breach of promise of marriage against a gay deceiver of 70, the damages being laid at $15,000.

New York Tribune: Even Robert Toombs is a Hayes administration man, and talks as sensibly as though he had not been, until lately, the chief Bourbon in all the South.

Mr. Swinburne, according to the Whitehall Review, admires George Eliot. Mr. Carlyle does not. He says, "She is neither amusing nor instructive, but just dool, dool, dool!"

The Richmond Whig calls upon Gen. Walker to withdraw from the Democratic State ticket as candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of Virginia, because he is not strongly enough in favor of the debt adjustment project.

An Illinois man says that a lawyer, now upon the Supreme Bench in that State, once presented him a fee bill of $100, but when he learned that the amount of the claim was only $35 he compromised by taking the amount of the judgment.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 4th inst. says: Virginia is able to pay; and even with the losses brought upon her by the anti-funders, it is entirely practicable to redeem the honor and pay the debt of the State without addition to the public burdens.

The Chicago Tribune thinks that the "Rebel yell" is "Hurrah for Hayes!" also, that if Mistah Conkling's playmates had in his youth utilized him in testing whether the ice on newly frozen millponds would bear, much trouble might have been avoided.

P. T. Barnum, an expert in the business, says: "I have seen a good many people humbugged during my life, and have been humburged myself, but have noticed that more persons, on the whole are humbugged by believing in nothing, than in believing in too much."

On the authority of an English weekly we beg to inform our readers of a matrimonial mind that by writing to Mme. Bosquet, Rue du Bac, Paris, they can have their choice of an orphan of eighteen with £12,000, another of twenty-one with £16,000 and a widow of thirty-five with £24,000.

Senator Cameron, of Wisconsin, thinks Mr. Conkling has hurt himself by his course, and that a majority of the people of Wisconsin stand by Mr. Hayes in his civil-service reform and Southern policies. He hardly thinks the Democrats will stand by Mr. Hayes should Mr. Conkling and his friends attack the Administration.

New York Tribune: No cautious gentleman can retire to rest with any comfort now-a-days without going through a rigid course of self-examination to convince himself that he has not been stealing something or committing a forgery or so during the day. As a prophylactic measure during this epidemic of financial impropiety it would be well for any operator who is compelled to express himself, to hire a private detective to watch him—at least during business hours.

New York Tribune: A graceful compliment to President Hayes was paid by the Southern members of the Board of Trustees of the Peabody Education Fund, in nominating him to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Judge Jackson, of Georgia. It is the custom of the Board to have the Southern trustees make a selection to supply any vacancies occurring in the membership from their section. In accordance with this custom it was supposed they would name a Southern man, and it was a pleasant surprise to the Northern members to hear from the Hon. A. H. H. Stuart, of Virginia, that President Hayes had been unanimously chosen.

A Judge Retires from the Bench.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, writing from Vanceburg, Kentucky, says: Our Criminal Court was opened by Judge Sands in a creditable style, but no business was transacted, because Judge Sands failed to sustain his judicial and personal dignity. There was much bad feeling manifested at one time toward this young and gifted Judge, until he came into court and said:

"Gentlemen and Fellow Citizens:—I appear before you to say I am a victim to a vice which has disgraced me before you and my country. As I entered this court-room, I heard some one say: 'There goes pretty timber to make a criminal judge of.' I feel that remark as steel through my heart, for it is just. I am unworthy of the high honor and trust you have conferred upon one so young; and I return to you the office I have lost, being unworthy of it. Pardon me, friends and countrymen, but you shall bear this no longer. My judicial integrity and official acts are blameless. Thank God, I am no longer criminal judge of Lewis county. May Heaven keep me in my affliction!"

This eloquent and feeling appeal was never heard here before. Prejudice was turned to sympathy and sympathy to compassion for Judge Sands. He has a warm place in our hearts, and we hope he will return to us reformed.

"Best and Most Readable."

(Hendersonville New Era.)

It gives us great pleasure to notice the enlargement of the Raleigh NEWS from a seven to an eight column paper. The NEWS is by far the best and most readable of the Southern dailies, and we rejoice to chronicle this evidence of its increasing prosperity.

To Mothers:—Should the Baby be suffering with any of the disorders of Babyhood use Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup at once for the trouble. 25 cents per bottle.

I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is the most perfect and economical in use. The Boiler is of new design, being vertical, yet all the heating surface is entirely covered with water, thus preventing the fire from destroying the tubes as is the case, in a few years, in all upright tubular boilers in which the fire passes through the tubes above the water line, soon destroying the exposed end of the tubes causing them to leak.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——A drummer's license was issued by the State Treasurer yesterday to E. Denzer & Co., of New York city.

——The Raleigh Light Infantry will meet promptly at the court house this (Tuesday) evening at 7:20 o'clock for drill.

——At Salisbury Street Baptist Church, seven subjects were baptized by immersion, on Sunday night, by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Pritchard.

Sheriff P. H. Riddick of Gates county has delivered to the Railroad authorities at Henry station on the W. N. C. Railroad, three convicts, the fruit of the recent term of Gates Superior Court.

——George T. Lamb, Register of Deeds for Martin county, has sent in his abstract of taxes for the present year, by which it appears that the county pays an aggregate of taxes—State and county—of $11,483.14.

——The Mayor of Petersburg requires every tramp furnished a night's lodging in the jail of that city, to work two days on the streets to pay for it. We mention the fact as a suggestion to our city authorities as one worthy consideration.

——We learn that Col. J. J. Hickman, of Kentucky, the great temperance orator and head of all the Good Templars of the world, has placed his sons at the Bingham School, influenced by the total abstinence feature which has been successfully maintained at that institution for about five years.

——The Sheriff of Wake complains that tax-payers are coming up awfully slow. He is required by law to pay over the county tax to the county treasurer on the 1st of December, and the State tax to the State treasurer the 1st of January, and therefore he is anxious for the tax payers to hurry up and enable him to comply with the law.

Wake Superior Court.

The Fall term of Wake Superior Court commenced yesterday, His Honor, A. A. McKoy, on the Bench. There being no grand jury for this court, of course there was not the usual charge, but the court went at once into the business of the docket.

We noticed the following members of the local Bar present; Messrs. Snow, Argo, Fowle, C. M. Busbee, F. H. Busbee, Ashe, Stamps, Badger, Fleming, R. H. Battle, Parnell, W. W. Jones, Mason, Gray, Bledsoe, Mordecai, R. G. Lewis, and Harris.

Several cases were called and set for special days either at this term or that of January. Some discussion arose as to whether the Court should adjourn for the circus on Wednesday and the State Fair next week—in other words, whether the circus and the Fair would not interfere with the business of the court.

Personal.

Capt. C. M. Cook, Solicitor of this District, and the Rev. Dr. N. H. D. Wilson, arrived on the R. & G. train last evening, and are stopping at the Yarbrough.

Dr. W. J. Hawkins of Warren, A. B. Hawkins Esq., of Tallahassee, Florida, W. F. Askew, Esq., of Chapel Hill, and Prof. Mills of Wake Forest College, were registered at the Yarbrough last night.

Rev. Dr. Burkhead returned to the city yesterday evening from Pacific, where he had been to dedicate a new Methodist church. He brings intelligence of a good religious interest and revival at the new church.

Roanoke Up.

We learn from passengers who left Weldon on yesterday at 12 M. that Roanoke River is higher than it has been for several years and that there must be very great destruction to crops. All the crops near Weldon in the low grounds are now totally submerged. Our Weldon correspondent writes: "The fresh in the Roanoke is very destructive; hundreds of acres of corn being under water. The river rose steadily all day Saturday, Saturday night and yesterday (Sunday.) The water has commenced falling this morning (Monday), and has gone down a few inches. It was within 3 feet, 10 inches of the point reached by the memorable freshet of the 10th of May, 1873."

Another Sick Tramp.

The police picked up a sick tramp on one of the streets last Saturday, and took him to the guard house, where he has been lying since in a very low state. Dr. Hines was called in and prescribed for him and all has been done for him that circumstances would permit, but yesterday he seemed to sink fast and there is little probability of his recovery. He seems unable or unwilling to communicate anything in regard to himself; all that has been learned in regard to him is that his name is George Allen, but where he is from he has not stated. The officers were trying to get a place to take him to, yesterday, but had not succeeded late in the afternoon.

Valuable City Property for Sale To-Day.

We call attention to the advertisement of "House and Lot for Sale," in this morning's issue. This is in every respect a desirable piece of property, located on one of the most beautiful streets of the city and in a most desirable neighborhood. The sale was postponed from yesterday.

Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

We are requested to state that there will be a regular annual Congress of this Fraternity in the city of Richmond, Va., on Wednesday, 31st inst, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and that members intending to be present from this State, will please notify Richard Brooke or F. H. McGuire, of the local committee, Richmond, Va.

Died.

In this city, on Sunday, Mary Magdelene, daughter of Richard and Mary Finnell, aged 4 years, 8 months and 23 days. Her funeral took place from the Person street M. E. Church, yesterday afternoon at 4½ o'clock, Rev. W. C. Norman officiating.

If you want a nice lot, or house and lot near the capitol, on Hillsboro street, or if you want a good mill with 30 acres of land call on E. G. Brown. *

Donations to the North Carolina Agricultural Society, for the Premium List of the Next State Fair, Oct. 16th to 20th.

(Acknowledged by C. B. Denson, Sup't, in behalf of the Executive Com.)

One dozen rotary corn-shellers, $12, and one dozen pocket corn-shellers, $12, from Eugene Snyder, Esq., in behalf of the Harrisburg, Pa., Family Corn Sheller Co. Mr. S. writes that he has sold some thousands of these shellers in our State, and gives this liberal donation most cheerfully, with kind words and good wishes for the prosperity of the Society.

One ton ammoniated soluble super phosphate, $45, from Messrs. Lorentz & Ritter, Baltimore, Md., through A. C. Sanders, Commission Merchant, Raleigh.

We have here another of the long line of generous gifts in fertilizers to our farmers. There will be a goodly array in this department, and we trust to the advantage both of farmers and merchants, whose interests ought to be one and the same.

Six horse and mule collar pads, assorted sizes, from the Sole Leather Pad Co., W. H. Ramsey, Supt., Olean, New York.

One Whipper's rectangular churn, from Messrs. Cornish & Curtis, Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin. This valuable piece of household goods has arrived in advance of our notice. Although very simple in appearance and working, it is commended by some of the first dairymen in the country.

One lot of paint, assorted colors and varieties, from the New York Enamel Paint Co. Value not stated. We are indebted to these gentlemen for a hearty and prompt response to our request. The various companies manufacturing paints will be well represented at this Fair, and persons desirous of purchasing will do well to call by the hall of donations for circulars which will be distributed there.

Two dozen brooms, $8, from Messrs. Tottle & Co., Baltimore, Md., through Messrs. Barbee & Latta, Cotton Buyers and Commission Merchants and Grocers, Raleigh, N. C. With this kind donation, which is duly appreciated, through the popular young merchants we have named, our list closes to-day. We shall endeavor to publish as early as possible many kind donations yet unreached on our file.

Notes of the Fair.

It should be distinctly understood that the fair is intended to open this year on the day assigned. Let our friends then prepare to be on hand to witness the military display, to hear Gov. Vance with his old time eloquence, and to inaugurate the week's interesting events bravely from the start. It will be a day to enjoy the first fresh sights of the beautiful handiwork of the ladies, and the brilliant exhibits of our merchants and friends from abroad. Let everybody fail not to have their articles and animals, &c., in the grounds on Monday, that the fair may open with the exhibition in place. No articles can compete at all for premium entered after Thursday 9 a. m. Persons proposing to make extensive exhibits would do well to prepare them this week. Wm. H. Thompson, Esq., will take charge of donations to-day at the fair ground. Articles in hand with our merchants may be delivered to him at the grounds, and lists filed with the Secretary. Persons fitting up stalls will apply at Secretary's Office for permits to enter the grounds. Entries came in promptly yesterday, especially in the ladies department, and in the line of horses, &c.

Mr. Atkinson of Ashville, will reach here on Saturday with his great display of fruit. He has six assistants in his party. A friend from Bald Creek, Yancey county proposes to compete with him in regard to apples at least.

ESSAYS AND VISITORS DURING THE FAIR.

We are pleased to state that the Rev. B. Craven, D. D. President of Trinity College will deliver an essay to the Agricultural Society during fair week.

Prof. F. W. Simonds the new Professor of Natural History at the University of North Carolina will present an essay, upon "some Curious Habits of Insects" with special reference to the relation of entomological knowledge to successful agriculture.

Prof. Albert R. Ledoux, analyst of the Agricultural Department will also deliver a brief address to the Society.

We have every reason to anticipate wide and important results to the State from this fair,

To the Business Men and Property Owners of the City of Raleigh.

The Rescue Fire Company of the city of Raleigh, respectfully calls your attention to the fact that the Pace Hose Fire Company, of Danville, a company from Norfolk, Virginia, and a company from Wilmington, will visit Raleigh during Fair week. Desiring to entertain these brethren in a suitable manner, the Rescue Company have appointed a committee to wait upon the citizens of Raleigh, especially the large property owners and business men, for the purpose of collecting a sufficient amount to defray the expenses of the occasion.

Being mechanics and workingmen, the Rescue members are not able to defray the entire expense that will be incurred on this occasion.

Bridges Gone.

Now that the waters have subsided the damages by the freshet on the various streams in the country are being fully ascertained, and we are glad to learn that these damages are not so great as at first apprehended. The bridge across the Neuse, known as Penny's was carried off last Friday night, owing to a heavy raft lodged against it, which it was impossible to clear away. The timbers of the bridge were carried down and lodged against the bridge at the Falls. The bridge across Walnut creek, on what is known as the Pool road, was washed away. Register White went out yesterday morning and made arrangement for the immediate replacing of this bridge, as it is a very important one to the people of a large section of the county coming to Raleigh.

The Board of County Commissioners have been called to meet on to-morrow, 10th, to take steps for repairing or replacing bridges injured or washed away by the freshet.

Sale of Real Estate.

On yesterday there was sold at public auction at the court house door, a one-hundred-acre tract of land, lying on Brier creek in Cedar Fork township, some fourteen miles from the city, which brought $599. At the same time a quarter-acre lot with a small two-room cottage on it, situated in Brooklyn village, near the northwestern suburb of the city, was sold for $140.

These pieces of property were sold under a commission from the court, S. F. Mordecai, Esq., Commissioner, for division among the heirs of the late Margaret J. Beck, on the application of B. Y. Rogers, Solomon Wiggins and others, ex parte.

The first named was bid off to Mr. Wm. Y. Phipps, and the lot in Brooklyn to Mr. G. T. Porter.

One penny saved is two pence gained. By purchasing your groceries of M. Grausman, you can follow out the teachings of the above old adage. M. Grausman keeps a full line of all kinds of first-class family groceries. *

The News as an Advertising Medium.

A large increase of advertising patronage forced us to enlarge the size of our Daily two weeks ago, and still the pressure on its advertising columns is heavy. We are proud of this evidence of appreciation of the paper, because we know that business men, who understand their business and are well acquainted with the advantage of advertising give the NEWS their patronage advisedly, and not as a bonus. In the language of a cotemporary, "all sagacious business men advertise for their own advantage, and only when and where they believe the returns may be reasonably expected to realize a profit upon the expenditure involved by it. It would be folly for them to advertise in a journal for the simple purpose of aiding to sustain it. This principle would prove ruinous to any business if generally applied."

The NEWS has a large local circulation and goes into every county of the State and to many points out of it, and we can offer it conscientiously to advertisers as one of the best mediums in the State of making business or enterprise generally known, and we feel gratified in knowing that we give a quid pro quo —a full value received—for the liberal advertising patronage with which we are favored.

Transportation for Fair Week.

We call attention of the Railroad authorities and also that of the Executive Committee of the Agricultural Societies to the following paragraph taken from the Wadesboro paper, in answer to a suggestion in the NEWS one day last week. It would pay all the Railroads, leading to the city to run excursion trains every day during the Fair, and would prove a great convenience to the people, provided the fare should be reduced to something like the rates of the summer excursions:

"The Raleigh NEWS suggests an excursion on the Raleigh. Augusta Air Line for the fair week. There ought to be an excursion train run every day during fair week on this road, and should connect with the C. C. R'y, train for the people from Union, Stanly, Anson, Montgomery and Richmond counties of this State, and border counties of S. C., who desire to go to the Fair, if the transportation is put down low. Brother NEWS have some arrangement made, and this section will be well represented."

That Large Welsh Fortune.

The statement has got a start in the papers and is rapidly going the rounds, that John G. Williams, Esq., President of the State National Bank of this city, has had left to him and his brother's heirs, a large estate in Wales. We had heard the rumor and hoped it was true, but diligent inquiry has failed to satisfy us that there is any certainty in the report, but on the contrary, the statement is probably premature. Mr. Williams has not yet received the eighteen hundred dollars to pay his expenses to Wales to look after the estate, nor has he packed his trunk for the trip. Indeed we have not been able to ascertain that he has ordered any addition to his wardrobe which we think he would likely to do, were he expecting to make a protracted sojourn in a foreign land. We hope it will all come out right, certain and sure, soon, and that the rumor may be confirmed, but it is not certain and sure yet.

Lecture To-Night.

We would again call attention to the lecture of Rev. McKinney, colored Episcopal minister of Charlotte, to be delivered at Metropolitan Hall to-night. Independent of the object of the lecturer, namely, to raise funds for building a chapel for the colored Episcopalians of Charlotte, which is of itself worthy the attention of a christian community, we have assurances of gentlemen fully capable of judging, that the lecture is of a high order of merit, and will repay all who go to hear it. No admission fee charged, but a voluntary collection will be taken up for the object mentioned at the close of the lecture.

The Blue Ridge Blade says: "It looks, at this distance, as if the State Fair this year would eclipse all former exhibitions of this Society; and we hope it may be so, for it will be a proof that our people are becoming more interested in their growth and prosperity through industrial production than in taking care of the General Government and nursing their politicians."

We can assure the Blade that a near view of the matter does not detract at all from the prospect, but the nearer the time approaches the brighter is the prospect for a Fair that will not only eclipse all former ones of the Society, but one that has never been eclipsed by any exhibition of the kind in the South.

Mayor's Court.

Only a few trivial cases—mostly of drunk and down—not worth reporting. About sunset yesterday evening, Policeman Goodwin, assisted by three or four stalwart fellows, brought in the worst case of drunk we have seen for some time. He was drunk all over, even to the tips of his ears. He was placed in a cell and left to sleep off his stupor.

Sutler Appointed.

Mr. R. H. Bradley has been appointed sutler for Camp Russell during the stay of the military. He will furnish first-class fare at 50 cents per meal, and as each man will take about six meals during his stay, his expenses will only be three dollars; and as there is no charge for railroad fare nor for lodgings, the expense will be exceedingly light.

Grew in Raleigh.

We ate an English walnut yesterday from a tree in the yard of Mr. William Myatt. This tree is just coming into bearing and has a number of nuts on it this season. The kernel of the one we ate was full and plump, and as sweet as the imported nuts.

Distinguished Visitor to the Fair.

We learn that Prof. W. G. LeDuc, United States Agricultural Commissioner at Washington City, has signified his intention of visiting Raleigh and being present at the opening of the Fair, on Tuesday, 16th inst.

Cotton.

We are glad to note that there was again on yesterday a material advance in cotton, and our market closed at 10⅝ to 11 cents with one sale at 11¼. This is pushing up on New York prices, as sales were made there yesterday at 11⅜ to 11¾.

Neuse River.

Parties in from the Northern portion of our county informs us that Neuse River was on Saturday and Sunday very high, and large portions of the low grounds have been flooded causing serious loss of corn and fodder and in some instances cotton.

It gives me pleasure to announce that I can offer to an impartial public, goods at prices that have never yet been eclipsed in the city of Raleigh. My stock is the largest I have ever had—and I can assure my friends that I can satisfy them in all things in my line, as to quality, quantity and price. Live and let live. A. CREECH. *

Have We a Poet Among Us?

We had feared that the spirit of poesy had taken its flight from the classic shades of the city of Oaks, since the sweet harp of "Tenella" had been attuned to unison with the murmur of the waves of Lake Michigan, and the facile pen that traced the lines of "The Star above the Manager," had descended to the more prosaic work of filling insurance blanks. But we were mistaken. We have a poet among us, as will be seen by the following from a recent number of the St. Louis Times:

"STRIKE!

(By Col. W. H. Tucker, of Raleigh, N. C.)

Strikes are quite proper, on y strike right;
Strike to some purpose, but not for a fight:
Strike for your manhood, for honor and fame;
Strike right and left, till you win a good name;
Strike for your freedom from all that is vile;
Strike off comparisons who often beguile;
Strike with the hammer, the sledge and the axe;
Strike off bad habits with burdensome tax;
Strike out unaided, depend on no other;
Strike without gloves, and your foolishness smother;
Strike off the fetters of fashion and pride;
Strike where 'tis best, but let wisdom decide;
Strike a good blow while the iron is hot;
Strike, keep striking, till you hit the right spot."

There is no love-sick nonsense about that; it interweaves the practical with the higher sentimental, like putting a good warm flannel back to a fancy vest, shows well and is calculated to keep one warm. We hope to have some more of it.

W. H. & R. S. Tucker.

We perhaps ought to apologize for not noticing sooner the last new ad. of this firm, but "better late than never" will mend the omission, and further, we will take occasion to say that we scarcely knew where to begin in order to do the subject justice, any how. Such piles of goods, such variety of staple and fancy articles, such a wilderness of hats of all shapes, sizes and and fashions; such rolls of carpeting and such a regiment of polite clerks to show it all, is bewildering, and besides, it is impossible to tell about it—go and see for yourselves.

Dead.

The young man, Thomas A. Catlett, mentioned in the NEWS some time since as being very sick at the boarding house of Mrs. Karrer, died on Sunday morning last about 7 o'clock. He had careful attention to the last and was decently buried. His funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the Person street M. E. Church, Rev. W. C. Norman officiating. His disease was consumption. He leaves a wife and infant child, who, we understand will endeavor to go back to her father's in Indiana.

Messrs. Petty and Jones.

This well-known dry goods house is now literally crammed with new Fall and Winter goods. Their announcement and a more particular notice will appear to-morrow.

Independent Special Premium for the Fair.

For the best opossum dog, owned and raised in Wake county. Premium, one bunch patent "Nimrod Hunting Links;" excellence to be decided by the largest number of 'possums treed in any one night, affidavit of the owner to be annexed to the report.

University Day.

We learn that hereafter 12th October, will be known in the University Calendar as "University day," and will be a College holiday by ordinance of the Trustees. On next Friday, being the 12th addresses on the early History of the University will be delivered by President Battle, Rev. Dr. Phillips and others. Distinguished Alumni have been invited to be present and address the students and visitors.

Mr. Turner Last Night.

Hon. Josiah Turner was to speak in Metropolitan Hall last night, and we presume he did, but it rained so awfully hard from eight o'clock to ten, that we didn't get out to hear him. If he did speak, we can vouch for it that he gave it to "Rings, Rogues and Rascals" hot and heavy. He is announced to speak at the same place to-night at 8 o'clock.

Coal and Lumber

Can be had cheap for cash, of G. W. Carpenter & Co. In weighing their coal they say they employ a set of Fairbanks' scales, instead of barrels, the old-time weigh, and find it, like honesty, the best policy.

Call and see Brewster's new style stoves and ranges, heating, cooking, parlor, office dining room, laundry and church stoves. Paints, oils and varnish, rope, brushes, wood and willow ware. *

Pratt's Astral Oil

Will not explode, and burns in any Lamps; safe under all circumstances, clear as water and free from smell. Beware of so-called "Safety-oil." Buy only of reliable dealers. Julius Lewis & Co., Sole Wholesale Agents for North Carolina.

DIED.

HARPER—At the residence of J. W. Watson, Esq., on Newbern Avenue, at 1 o'clock, on yesterday, GEORGE WATSON, infant son of Chas. H. and Hattie J. Harper, aged two weeks and one day.

Little George, thou art gone,
Gone to the angels above.
